City seeks pipe funds

The city of Upland will ask the county for $85,000 to finance a new storm drain pipe between 14th and 15th streets at the annual public hearing of the Zone I Advisory Committee for the San Bernardino Flood Control District hearing Tuesday, Jan. 11 at 2 p.m. in the Cucamonga Water District Office.

Remaining costs of $25-35,-000 for the 1600' of 66" pipe will be picked up by the city, according to Edwin Alder, city manager.

The channel currently does not have a large water flow through the west Cucamonga channel and a small pipe would be able to accomodate the water.

A pipe has advantages over a concrete channel because the land becomes usable and it does not create fenced divisions within the area, Alder said.

The proposal for financing the approved proposal will be considered during the budget allocation hearings in February.

"I think we will get the money," said the city manager. "Ontario and Montclair have gotten the lion's share of the money in previous years. Now we feel that it's Upland's turn.

The pipe is "the first step in the funding of a major drainage system," approved by the Board of Supervisors in 1970.

A new city drainage plan calls for runoff water from the mountains intercepted by a large drain which would channel the water east into the Cucamonga Channel.

This contrasts with the old plan which intercepted the southward moving water at many different east-west streets and then carried the water eastward to the Cucamonga Channel.

In accordance with the master plan, the city will present a subsidiary proposal to the county to extend northward present work on the Cucamonga Channel in Ontario to Eight St. This enlargement of the channel would then be able to accommodate the increased water which would be carried to the channel by the proposed new large drain.

Sky show is 'light'

"The Story of the Speed of Light" will be Chaffey College's planetarium program for Tuesday evenings from Jan. 4 through

The presentations in the Daniel B. Milliken Planetarium start at 7:15 p.m. with attendance free on a first-come basis.

Graphically depicted will be the four scientists who resolved the issue as to whether light is instantaneous or amounts to factors of speed.

The scientists were Galileo (1564-1642), an Italian; Ole Roemer (1644-1710), a Dane; Armand Fizeau (1819-1896), a Frenchman; and Albert Michelson (1852-1931), an American.

These were the men who pioneered the concept that light is a matter of speed, that light in relation to light years can be used to determine distances to

Holiday hangover

Although much of this holiday snow has melted since this aerial photo was taken, some of the white stuff still dots the tops of the San Gabriel Mountains north of Upland as a happy holiday hangover for the new year. This photograph was taken at 4,500 ft, from a CableAir aircraft piloted by Boyd Phelps, looking north up Euclid Avenue (center).

Frosty fantasy

Recent freezing weather brought beauty as well as drippy noses, wet feet, cold hands and slick streets. Snow and ice engulfed the forests of the Mt. Baldy area in a crisp whiteness that lured thousands of holiday tourists. However, it is the individual beauty of a single clump of pine needles or a few icicles which still cling to a tree that highlight a walk through the snowy elegance for a photographer eager to preserve the transient

County school project

SAN BERNARDINO -- The San Bernardino County Schools Regional Project Office for ESEA Title VII has published a second manual to help teachers in implementing the small group process approach.

"They Help Each Other Learn," was written by four Arizona educators -- Jean M. Baker, Tana Smith, Barbara Walters and Raiph Wetzel -- and follows the first manual, "Each One Learning, A Small Group Process Manual for Teachers."

Both manuals culminated a year long bilingual - bicultural federally funded project in Phoenix, Arizona.

Prepared especially for the Title VII Bilingual Teacher Inservice Program, the new manual details five basic lessons for teachers to follow in acquainting their students with skills for participation and leadership in small groups.

The manual was developed by Dr. Baker and her associates after second grade teachers involved in the project reported that many of their students lacked the skills required for effective group participation and leader-

It provides lessons in the rationale for small group instruction and leaders; reading and understanding group instructions; distributing materials and cleaning up the work area; and evaluating group activities.

The manual also contains six full page pictures of large activity charts showing types of instructions used in small group lessons. Some of the instructions are in English and some in Spanish. The charts, in color, have been prepared by a professional artist and are printed on 16 by 20 inch tagboard. The 12-chart package is available from the Regional Project Office at a cost of $4.95 each.

Copies have been sent to directors of Title VII Projects throughout the country for their evaluation.

Requests for copies of the manual at $1.75 each or for information about the program should be directed to Dr. Charles H. Herbert at the Regional Project Office, Suite 306, 505 N. Arrowhead Ave., San Bernardino, 92401.

'Don't panic' about cats

DENVER - "Doctor, I've just read an article on toxoplasmosis in one of the women's magazines and I'm really quite upset. You see, I'm five months pregnant, and I wonder if I should get rid of our family cat?"

If you haven't read some of the current "scare" articles about toxoplasmosis, you may wonder what connection Mrs. Jones' cat has with the disease and her present state of maternity. The gist of these articles is to suggest that the house cat may be the primary source of infection of the tiny, crescentshaped parasite responsible for causing the disease in man.

While the cat-and raw or undercooked meat containing the toxoplasma organisms-may be possible sources of the infection to man, the only positively proven source of toxoplasmosis in man is congenital infection.

So, DON'T PANIC . . . it's not necessary to get rid of your cat! Toxoplasmosis is not a new disease, and it is no more dangerous now than it ever was, though the apparent incidence of it may seem to increase with the improved diagnostic procedures. While there is currently no successful treatment of the disease, it can be controlled with drugs if caught in time. Mrs. Jones' primary concern was that toxoplasmosis has been found to be passed to an unborn baby by a mother who becomes infected with it during the last six months of pregnancy. Birth de-fects have been attributed to toxoplasmosis, and while some medical authorities believe this may be the leading cause birth defects, only about half the congenital infections result in physical abnormalities. Many congenitally infected persons may live their entire lives without manifesting the disease.

Financial woes now confront the Foothill Council PTA due to cost over runs in their recent Food Basket Drive, according to Mrs. Bernice Savage, Foothill Council

PTA president. This year's basket of canned goods, fresh fruits and vegetables, poultry and other staples cost $10, a two dollar increase over last year, and a to-tal bill of $1180. 'I don't know why donations are slower this year," said Mrs. Savage. However she cited the problem of finding a chairman, the slowness in publicity and other holiday activities as the probable causes.

The Food Basket drive provided food to 118 needy families selected by referrals from health nurses in the free lunch program, counselors and police.

Adopting pets could be tragic

POMONA -- Each holiday season many animal shelters start to fill the newspapers with photographs of wistful puppies and cute kittens, along with persuasive pleas to "Adopt a Pet from our Shelter." We would like to see every placeable animal in our Shelter get a good home, for when they come us it's their last chance. But experience has taught us that, in areas of dense population, this kind of publicity may do more harm than good.

Every New Year, as well as offering new hope for the future, exacts a traffic toll. The aftermath of the Christmas season and the early months of the New Year bring sad consequences. This is the time when too many pets, given away as gifts to new owners who have tired of them, are rejected as unwanted. 1970 brought an early rush of victims, even before Christmas, as many owners sought to dispose of unwanted cats and dogs as the season of good will approached. Reports from Humane Societies all over the country told the same pathetic story. Perhaps you shouldn't get a pet . . . If you plan to give it as a gift, but aren't sure the family you will give it to . . . wants that kind of animal, knows how to care for it, and is willing to do so. If you plan to keep it yourself, but can-not give it the care, training and affection that it needs.

If you plan to keep it yourself, but cannot pay the costs of shots, license and other expenses. A healthy, happy, well-trained pet can bring much pleasure to its owner. But a pet that is neglected, sick, abused, or allowed to become a neighborhood nuisance is no source of pleasure for any sane person. And we cannot feel happy, either, at the possibility that any animal from our Shelter might suffer such a fate.

So let us remind you again that animals are not merchandise to be discarded or exchanged when they prove unsatisfactory. Consider the feelings of animals, as well as your friends or family, and make everyone happy. definite gift buying is that of any exotic animal. Nobody should keep an exotic pet who doesn't know how to care for it and provide all its needs. And that eliminates practically everyone. The inhumane traffic of exotic pets is the very thing that is putting many species on the extinct list. If one who ask himself the following 5 questions, one would never purchase an exotic animal:

1. Will the City I live in allow this type of animal?

2. Is there a veterinarian in the area who can or will care for it in case of illness? 3. Can I afford the costs of keeping it? 4. Do I have to have it insured in case of an attack by the animal?

5. Who will care for it when I go on vacation? Some pet owners search for frivolous gifts for their cat or dog, such gifts as: color shampoo, nail polish, perfume, mink collars, pajamas and bathrobes the year round. However, most people have a more sensible attitude toward their pets. In search for gifts for a dog, one should consider something of value and not hazardous to its health. Such as, training lessons, identity tags, dog license, check-ups at the veterinary clinic, feeding dishes or beds are among the most practical gifts.

If it's a collar you buy, the owner should be sure it's loose enough to get one finger comfortably between the dog's neck and collar. If you are searching for a collar for your cat, it's very important that you get one that is stretchable or will break apart in case your cat gets caught while climbing or tunneling. Favorite foods score high, but the owner should avoid oversweet candies that upset the dog's feeding habits.

The owner should keep pets away from brittle bones of chicken or turkey. Mistletoe may provide memorable moments for pet owners but it is danger for all pets. Mistletoe is highly poisonous, so be sure if you hang any that it is well se-cured and can't fall to the floor. Felines are particularly susceptible to this type of poisioning. Toys are appreciated, but it is ill-advised to give anything that may be swallowed or torn apart, is made of wood or is painted. Some of these may be poisonous. Leather is recommended. The best rule to follow in this case is "The best Holiday gift for your pet is what's best for him."

Don't let safety play second fiddle.

Nobody likes the idea of losing what he's earned. Saving money is like a love affair. Once fulfilled, it becomes vulnerable to the fear of loss. Protect your principal. Guarantee gain. That's the trick in making money work for you.

At Bank of America you're assured of both. We guard your money with everything Bank of America stands for. Some call it stability. We call it financial knowledge tempered by experience.

Good times or bad, Bank of America quietly piles dollar on dollar in your account. And your money's there when you want it. We can't think of an easier way to make money short of a windfall from a rich uncle.

We have several savings plans. Each pays a good return, depending upon how long you want us to safeguard your money.

At Bank of America, the biggest threat to your principal is your own withdrawal. Why not open an account with us? Even if it's only a few dollars, safety counts.

Save at Bank of America.

Space age may offer solutions

WASHINGTON -- If it's possible to send a man to the Moon then certainly it must be possible to solve a myriad of lesser problems.

Space scientists and engineers ask themselves this question every day. After all, to get a man to the Moon was not the solution to a single problem, but the solution to literally thousands of problems before Neil Armstrong touched down on the lunar surface, July 20, 1969.

This kind of success in space-age engineering and science tends to encourage and stimulate those who achieved it to seek solutions to other, frequently more earthly problems.

'Cache' program in Navy

ONTARIO -- The Navy has developed a 'CACHE' Program, whereby a young man may enlist now and not go on active duty for up to 180 days. The program was developed for the junior college student and the high school senior. These young men may enlist in the Navy now and have a guaranteed active duty date for June, July, August or September. The program was designed to eliminate the 'waiting list' and insure the applicant an enlistment on the day he wants.

Men enlisting in this program will have a six month head start over regular Navy recruits because they are already in the Navy building seniority for pay and time for fulfilling their military obligation. As of November 14, 1971, starting pay in the Navy is $268.50 a month.

For further information on this or any of the Navy programs contact Petty Officer Bob Springer at 331 N. Euclid Ave. in Ontario or call 984-NAVY.

State seeks concessioner

SACRAMENTO -- Marshall Gold Discovery State Historic Park in Coloma, El Dorado County, is looking for a blacksmith concessioner and a gunsmith concessioner to demonstrate their crafts to the many thousands of visitors who visit the park every year.

Gus Till, Manager of the park, says that there is a partially equipped blacksmith shop just waiting for a smith to take over, and about all the interested party will have to do will be to supply his own spreading chestnut tree and small tools, and make some repairs to the equipment.

There is also an historic old gunsmith building constructed in the 1850's, Till added, but there are no tools or equipment available.

Till emphasized that there would only be limited income produced by the concessioners through the sale of related items to park visitors, and that interested craftsmen would need to have some outside income. Retired or semiretired persons would be ideal.

Anyone interested should contact William Penn Mott, Jr., Director of the State Department of Parks and Recreations, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento 95811. Phone (916) 445-2358.

Forest service helps scouts

CLAREMONT -- Smokey the Bear and the Boy Scouts of America have joined forces to provide high - adventure outdoor camping experiences to thousands of boys across the U.S.

The BSA and the U.S. Forest Service have revised and expanded a 1955 agreement to provide continued cooperation between the Government agency and Scout activities in the national forests, according to an announcement today by Warren Cliburn, Camping Chairman of the Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The agreement ensures continued cooperation between local units of both organizations through exchange and distribution of publications, training activities, counseling service to Scout officials, and service by Forest Service officials as Volunteer BSA leaders.

The Forest Service will encourage development of the Campways BSA tour and travel program that now makes available several hundred campsites to the BSA under this program. In turn, the youth organization will be responsible for seeing that units traveling under the Campways BSA program meet certain standards and requirements, Cli-burn said. The Forest Service will also encourage use and expansion of the BSA Historic Trails Program by suggesting new opportunities through use of existing national forest system explore ways and means for the legislature to attract new industry and business to California.

Sen. Coombs appointed to state commission

SACRAMENTO -- AP-

pointment of Senator Wil-

The new Commission, comprised of three Assemblyman and three State Senators, was created by the Joint Legislative Rules Committee, and Senator Coombs was unanimously selected by the Senate Rules Committee for a post in the new Commission, the chairman for which will be elected by the membership at its first meet-

Senator Coombs is serving his second term from the 20th Senate District, which comprises San Bernardino County, bringing a background of experience in similar county organizations to the new Commission. He was a member of the Regional Economic Development Council in San Bernardino County from the time of its formation in 1964 until his election to the State Senate in 1966, at which time he was the council president.

Senator Coombs has been particularly concerned with legislation which has been restrictive to California business and industry and which is indirectly responsible for a considerable portion of the state's unemployment problem.

In accepting the appointment to the new Commission, Senator Coombs expressed the hope that the Commission will be able to develop legislation which will make California a more attractive site for the type of business and industry which provides maximum employment with minimum employment with minimum impact on the environment.

Among possible resolutions for family members to make are:

- To keep the dog in the best possible health. A checkup by a veterinarian is an excellent start. Proper nutrition through regular feeding of complete and balanced food such as the soft-moist products is essential.
- To give the dog regular skin and coat care along with periodic teeth cleaning and nail clipping.
- To give him plenty of exercise without letting him run loose.
- To help develop his personality and intelligence by giving him loving attention and fair, consistent discipline.

Any resolution made and kept through 1972, the Center concludes, will be paid back amply by a healthy, happy dog.

Go California; give our wines

SAN FRANCISCO - A wine rack laden with bottles of California wine makes an excellent and exciting holiday season gift. It is an easy way to start a private wine cellar for a friend, add to a home wine cellar, or to provide a convenient cellar for yourself.

The giving and receiv-ing of wine is universally appreciated; wine is associated with the festive spirit, hospitality and the generous and joyful living of the holidays. And a variety of wines are available to fit the individual's personal preference and purse.

A person newly intro-duced to wine often is puzzled over which wines he should begin to stock. The broad and simple approach would be to give him a few bottles of dinner wines for meals, appetizer wines for entertainment, and sparkling wines for special occa-

With very little cost one can make gift packets of the following California wine types:

Two or three bottles of California red dinner wine--selected from such generic wines as Burgundy, Chianti or Claret; tom of the chimney. San Dènas Press: LaVerne Leader: Upland News: Cucamonga Times: Montclair Tribune or varietals such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Pinot Noir, Petite Sirah, Zinfandel, Barbera or Charbono;

Two bottles of California white dinner wine--Chablis, Rhine or Sauterne among the generics; Pinot Chardonnay, Sau-vignon Blanc, Pinot Blanc, Chenin Blanc, Riesling or Semillon among the varietals;

One or two bottles of California pink wine--one Vin Rose, and one varietal Rose--Grenache, Gamay or Grignolino;

Two bottles of California appetizer wine--Sherry or Vermouth (Dry or Sweet), or natural-flavored wines;

Two bottles of California dessert wine--California Port, Cream Sherry, Madeira, Tokay, Angelica or the Muscat wines:

And two bottles of sparkling wine--Cham-pagne, Sparkling Bur-gundy or Cold Duck.

With such a wide range of excellent California wines to choose from for holiday gifts, don't be surprised if Santa Claus ends up in the wine cellar instead of at the bot-

Mays-Schweitzer

UPLAND - A double ring ceremony united in marriage Jan Marlene Schweitzer of Upland and Larry Joe Mays at the Brethren In Christ Chapel in Upland.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schweitzer of Upland appeared for her wedding in a chiffon empire gown with Juliet sleeves and a court train. A tiara of white wisteria and tiny pink rosebuds held her flare veil of silk illusion.

The sister of the bride, Marla Schweitzer, served as junior brides maid. Juliane Schweitzer was the flower girl and Brent Schweitzer served as ring bearer. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mays accorded ushering honors to the uncle of the bride, Loren Unruh of Ontario.

Following a reception at the chapel lounge, relatives adjourned to the home of the bride for a buffet supper where the newlyweds opened wedding gifts. After a honeymoon in San Francisco, the couple now resides in Ontario where the groom is em-ployed at Jomas Roller Co., in Etiwanda and the bride is an employee of the Hollander Cafeteria.

Thomas-Gibson

UPLAND - James E. Thomas claimed as his bride Karen Gibson in rites at the Latter Day Saints Temple in Los Angeles.

The daughter of Mrs. Mary Gibson of Fresno made her own dress with a gathered satin skirt and a lace bodice and sleeves. Her headpiece held a long veil with lace trim.

The bride selected Sheryll Brookshy as her maid of honor and Maggie Thomas and Chris Gibson attended as brides-

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Thomas of Upland chose Ron Burns as best man and ushering honors were performed by Norm Thomas and Lynn Gibson.

Following a reception at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Chino, the couple honey mooned in San Francisco. They are now making their home in Montclair.

Rockhounds contest opens

INDIO -- Rockhounds are invited to enter the exhibit competition in the Minerals and Mining Department of the coming 1972 National Date Festival, Feb. 18-27, at Indio.

MSAC staffers are winners

WALNUT - Mountaineer staff members returned home recently from the Beta Phi Gamma national convention, winners of the Participation A ward and four individual competition honors.

Twenty of BPG's 60 chapters across the coun-try sent delegations to Universal City's Sheraton-Universal Hotel, and the 10-member MSAC group was named the most outstanding for its par-ticipation in five workshops conducted by wellknown journalists. In addition, 12 staff members were inducted into the honorary BPG for junior college journalists.

Of the dozens of categories in mail-in and onthe-spot competition, Ex-ecutive Editor Mike Moulton, and Political Editor Regi Ausums, Diamond Bar, took firsts in the most significant contests in each area. Ausums was named the best column writer for two mail-in entries, and Moulton received an outof-the-ordinary commendation from judges for his on-the-spot news report of a speech by Los Angeles Mayor Sam

Moulton's article was cited for being "heads above all the others," and he was encouraged to pursue what "should a bright future in journalism." The remarks prompted the audience of 150 at the awards luncheon to give Moulton a second ovation. Such dramatic reactions are rare when so many awards are handed out.

A more local drama unfolded later in the presentation of on-the-spot awards for sports writers. Assistant Sports Editor John Sherrard, won third place for his coverage of a basketball game. Sports Editor Ron Stern, bested him, however, in capturing second place. This was the only instance of back-to-back awards won by any col-

Other highlights of the convention, aside from winning awards and hearing Mayor Yorty, were the appearance to present awards of Laugh-In's Ann Elder and a tour of Universal Studios at convention's end.

Moulton, Stern and Sherrard were present to receive their trophies; Ausums was surprised with his this week during his regular journalism

Others in attendance at the convention were Kim McKillop, Walnut; Mary Beth Quick, Diamond Bar; Lyn Henley, Richard Cooper, Walnut; Bill Waite, Gary Smerek, and adviser Bill Lucas.

Christmas project

FULLERTON - "Operation Christmas," is now a success. The trees are now in Vietnam in the hands of the men and women they were in-tended. Several members of the Operation Christmas staff are there distributing the trees and a film from Walt Disney Productions which was graciously donated by Disney for the cause. One would think that our job is done, and it is for all intensive purposes.

However here in the U. S. a problem still remains. In taking on a project of this magnitude a certain amount of expenses are involved. There are five or six college students who will have to bear the costs now if we do not get any more donations. Being college students we believe the public can understand our problem. Living on a limited budget we need help.

We've done what we set out to do with the help of many organizations and individuals, what we need now is a helping hand from you the public. If you feel you can afford to help please send your tax-deductible contributions to: Operation Christmas, 2565 E. Chapman Ave., Suite 211, Fullerton, 92631. We the staff and organizers of Operation Christmas appreciate your help.

Winning the Artesia Tourney was Bellflower. They held a slender 5 point lead over Hamilton throughout their contest, and managed a 56-52 victory. This spelled the end of the city's bid to win in their first CIF comperition.

Fairfax, who competed in the prestigous Covina Classic, was dumped in the first round by Poway. This marked the first time a city team had played in CIF. Fairfax fared better in the second game, beating unranked Leuzinger 70-60.

in Chino Tournament

BY RON PRESTRIDGE

CHINO - Coach Paul Trautwein's varsity baskerball squad was labeled as a "dark horse" candidate for the SAL league title in preseason polling. They now must be considered as a serious threat to defend their title as they copped third place in the prestigious Chino Invitational Tourney last

The Scots had no problem in the first round of action, as they thumped still winless Escondido 77-59. Escondido led only in the first quarter (7-4). Upland built a commanding 39-26 edge at the half. In the second half, subs Satch Sanders and Curtis Oldenkamp sparked the Upland attack, with Sanders pumping in a personal high of 15 points, while Oldenkamp had 10. In quarterfinal action, the Highlanders easily handled a much taller Ganesha team, winning easily, 72-56. Upland was behind at the end of the first quarter, 14-13, and tied at the half, (30-30). However, Ganesha was just no match for the Clan in the second half, Upland outscoring the Giants 42-26. Again, the Upland subs sparkled, with forward Dave (Satch) Sanders sinking 15 points for the second day in a row, second on the team to Randy Nickolei's 19. Guard Jeff Goodban came off the bench in the third quarter to make 10 quick points, that put the game out of UPLAND-Stellar goalie Rick Coyle, three-year letterman on Coach Don Morris SAL-championship waterpolo team, was named to the first team all-CIF last week.

Last year, he was named to the third team. Teammate Rager Birkes also made honorable mention.
Coyle had his best year, blocking 69% of all shots against him, (202 out of 265). Birkes, co-captain, led the team with 59 goals and fourth on the team in assists, behind Tom Miller, Rick Accamazzo, and Ken The poloists outscored their opponents 216-119, on the year, while compiling a record of 18-5. (High)-land Marks----At the award banquet for the water polo team recently, awards went to: Tom Miller (Most improved), Rick Accamazzo, (Most Inspirational), and Rick Coyle (Most Valuable Player.

It just wasn't meant to be, however, as the Scots were eliminated in the semi-finals by league rival Montclair, 71-70, in an overtime period. Fine efforts were turned in by Bob Iverson for Upland.

Undaunted, Upland calmly went out and blew a strong South Hills quintet off the court. The Huskies, one of the favor-ites in the tourney before being eliminated by eventual champion Chino in the semis, never led in the game.

(High)-Land Marks -SAL teams made it a clean sweep in the tournament. Chino took the championship, Montclair runnerup, Upland third, Claremont fourth, and Pomona took the consolation championship. Chino invades the Highlander gym Tuesday afternoon, with Coach Jerry Cobb's exciting JV team playing at 3:15, and the varsity taking the floor at approximately 4:45.

LL ground-breaking

LA VERNE-La Verne Little League and Pop Warner parents are invited to join in the efforts for improving La Verne's Palota Park ball field at a ground-breaking set for Saturday, Jan. 8, at 10 a.m.

Volunteer workers are needed to make the improvements, and all interested persons are invited to participate.

The Little League Women's Auxiliary will serve coffee and do-nuts to the workers.

Upland Aquatics formed

UPLAND - A new area AAU swim team has recently been chartered under the name of Upland Aquatics. The team is coached by Jesse Staples. At present it has 22 active swimmers ranging 7-16 years. This amount will increase in early spring as high school swimmers have finished their school activities.

The swimmers workout every evening and Saturday mornings. They have already attended several winter meets.

In the recent Coronado-Navy meet, medals were brought home by Mary Meyers, Howard Hyde and David Brett in the 100 yard breaststroke.

The parents have formed a booster club to help support the team. Along with the swimmers they have held a rummage sale, sold tickets on a bike raffle and sponsored an AAU swim meet. Money earned has been used to buy the swimmers team warm-up suits.

Highlanders cop third Bonita bows to Lobos in Nogales

By Jim Lough

LA VERNE - It was sweet revenge for the Workman Lobos as they knocked the Bonita Bearcats out of the Consolation Bracket of the Nogales Tournament 63-51. Sweet, because it was Remi Tremblay's Bearcats who defanged the Lobos 68-60 in the Edgewood Tournament just over a week ago.

The loss eliminated the Bearcats from further competition until regulation SAL play opened at home Tuesday, Jan. 4 against Garey.

Bonita opened tourney play against the Basset Olympians and absorbed a 67-58 loss. They kept their hopes alive for a possible consolation Championship when they rolled over the Walnut Mustangs in convincing fashion 80-68.

In the opening game with Bassett, whose 6-10 center, Rod Littlepage, attracts the most attention, it was little Ted Farmer's 22 points that paced the Olympians. Bonita's Fred Myer and Marty Habern had 16 and 15 respectively.

In the final game, a 17 point burst by the Bearcat's Dave Shamblin led both teams. Marty Habern's 13 was slightly below his average, but Workman successfully muzzled Marty in the second half with 3 points. This time the Lobos got help from nearly every player as nine members scored. Top man was Dave Farmer with 16. Rebounds favored Workman 43-31, as they kept Shamblin and Habern effectively out of the basket area. What really stopped be the team to beat.

period when they were only able to muster 6 points while their opponents were canning 19. After Curtis Frick made the score 46-42 to open the fourth, it was nearly three minutes until Shamblin got a field goal for the 'Cats. While Workman's Gary Evans and Greg Capla were hitting from outside, they were limiting the Bearcats to 2 points in the final four minutes.

That was the end of the preseason wars, and from now on, all of the games are for real. It looks like the San Antonio League is going to be a real free for all. Garey, who really looked good against a simply awesome Morningside team is the big Covina Tourney, al-though losing 86-68, will

Skiing a total sport

LOS ANGELES - Why does skiing get into the enthusiast's blood?

Skiing is adventure in great depth. Skiing pits man alone against nature, even against himself. Man versus the mountain, the other elements, has long held special appeal for the mind bent on accepting challenges.

Skiing, according to the National Automobile Club is the most democratic of sports. It allows personal expression. In the vast playground of swirling whiteness the participant has a good chance of not meeting other skiers for quite some time. Away from the eyes of others, he can express himself in a purely personal way.

So on a mountaintop he can stand, his manner void of sophistication. There he loses himself, having the feeling that he's almost like a pure individual, almost like a primitive man.

Skiing is a physical out-let, a healthful exercise. For the release of tensions, people turn to such activities as dancing and tennis. Many turn to skiing. of the great mountains the skier uncovers hidden truths about himself, being in the mood for introspection.

Skiing is a sport for all ages. Whether five or fifty, novice or expert, the skier shows up on the peaks and slopes, ready and willing to brave the hazards of skiing just to experience the sheer exultation of zooming down an icy slope on two boards.

Actually skiing does not prove to be as dangerous as a number of us believe. With the proper training and enough prac-tice, advises NAC, a skier can master the techniques necessary for avoiding injuries. Skiing is a social experience, a way of meet-ing and being with people. On the slope, however, camaraderie has its limits. Off the slope, good fellowship and social activities reign. Following an afternoon of schussing, skiers join in a hearty meal that establishes closeness. Discussions of skiing conquests streng-then the common bond between them, that of the thrill in racing across icy surfaces with cold air ing a glow on everyone. Skiing is also an aesthetic experience. It opens the way, points out NAC, for man's return to nature. Leaving the gloomy city for the bright white and green wonderland, the skier enjoys the freshness and beauty of the scenery. That unbroken stretch of snow. That white mountain peak. That fragrant forest. Every-

Since it might take you a couple of hours to reach the mountains after you get a favorable report, there's always the problem of abrupt, adverse changes in the conditions.

Be prepared. Put to good use those defensive techniques so necessary for safe winter driving in the mountains. When you hit the snow, make starts slowly for better traction. Don't follow the bad example of those drivers who accelerate rapidly and thereby invite the trouble of spinning wheels. Stop slowly too, for jam on the brakes and you can go into a dangerous skid.

Watch out for glare ice and "black ice." Glare ice is more slippery than both wet packed snow and dry packed snow. Common sense, then, tells you to slow down on such ice. "Black ice" is treacherous because the driver can't detect it from a moving vehicle. On any mountain road, that "invisible" sheet of ice can trap you unless you exercise extreme caution, especially when you come upon shaded sections of road.

As for that overall poor visibility, you can improve it in snow by keeping your windshield and windows clear, by keeping on your lower headlight beam. And don't forget to use your defroster. If you can't see more than a few feet ahead of you, better pull off the road at some safe spot and wait out the storm.

Above all, advises NAC, be sensible about your mountain driving. Never tailgate. No matter how good your snow tires or chains are, you can't stop as quickly on snow or ice as you can on dry pavement. Never speed on curves. This can cause skidding. And never go over the posted limit. Your life is at stake. Chances are you'll soon be going to your favorite winter recreation area by car. Know what to expect, drive defensively, and arrive there safely.

Faces is an informal game

in a face? Judging by the answers given by players of an informal parlor game devised by a Loma Linda University psychiatrist, a face, even from early childhood, is indel-ibly etched with character and personality traits.
Simply called Faces, the game was conceived and developed by Dr. William H. Brunie, assist-ant clinical professor of psychiatry. First showing adolescent photo-graphs of famous people to those playing the game, he asks them what kind of person the picture subject became.

At the end of the speculation, Dr. Brunie reveals the identity of the young subject by showing a more easily recognized adult photograph of the same person.

No one wins or loses the game. But anyone who playe learns whether people really have faces like open books, Dr. Brunie thinks faces do make interesting reading. "Faces are evocative," he says. It is surprising how many times people playing the game correctly identify many of the personality traits of the prominent subjects I show them.

Dr. Brunie invented the game based on an old psychiatric diagnostic test used in the 1930's by a Hungarian psychi-atrist named Szondi. Szondi divided pictures of the faces of 48 mental institution patients into eight groups of six photos each, in each group of six was a picture of schizophrenic, a paranoid, a manic depressive, and so

Szondi then asked the patient he was trying to diagnose to pick out the photograph in each of the LOMA LINDA- What's eight groups that he felt most sympathywith. Szondi thought that if his patient consistently id-entified with the manic depressive in each group, for instance, he could diagnose his patient as having manic depressive tendencies also.

The test was never considered valid by most psychiatrists. But the concept was brought to the United States by Dr. David Rapaport, a leader in the field of psychological testing. Szondi made the mistake of trying to put the test on a one-to-one basis, says Dr. Brunie.

"It is not that simple. People are too complex to be labeled so easily. Dr. Brunie does see the Faces game as a sen-sitivity training instru-ment, though. The pho-tos make the viewer search deeper into each face," he says.

He maintains that people do not have to be smart to play "Faces," but have to be perceptive and in-tuitive. Many times someone will remark how much the childhood face of a renown biochemist for example, looks like that of a musician, he says, "and it turns out that the biochemist is also a talented violinist or pianist.

Illustrated games and lectures fascinate Dr. Brunie, He also uses audiovisual techniques to present the human side of reformer Martin Luther and can present several different facets of Luther's personality.

Dr. Brunie makes no money from the game he invented. He just enjoys watching the faces of people who are watching other people's faces.
